

Pre Consultation Form

Your Feng Shui Consultation

I am honored to work with you to help bring more harmony into your home and life! The questionnaire below will be helpful for both of us prior to your consultation or floor plan analysis.

Space Preparation

There is nothing you need to do to your home prior to our consultation. Seeing the space as it typically is in is the best state for me to assist you. Feel free to make any obvious changes that you normally would, such as picking up everyday items. All sessions are held in strict confidence and no judgement.

Session Procedure

During a consultation, I will get an overall feel of your home and floor plan, at which time you can show me any areas that are problem areas for you. We will then walk back through as I begin to suggest changes. Having a notepad handy is recommended. I am happy to help you make some changes during my consultation if we are physically able to do so and depending upon our time frame. At the conclusion, I will help you prioritize the changes for you to make.

Please provide the following to me with this pre-consultation form;

- An architectural floor plan (or hand drawn is fine if you don't have the architectural one)
 - Indicate all doors and windows and directions the doors swing open in or out of a room
 - Label what each room is (family room, bath, closet, etc)
 - If more than one level, please provide floor plans for both levels
 - Draw furniture placement and indicate where head of bed is in room
 - Indicate fireplaces, bathrooms, stairs and laundry rooms
- Take a picture of each room from the doorway so I can see what you see (sometimes 2 pics per room may be necessary)
- Take a picture from the street of the front of your house
- Take a picture standing at your front door looking out so I can see what you see

Once I have all of these items to evaluate and study, I will devise a plan to help bring more harmony into your home. Specifically I will be targeting the areas you are looking for help with.

For an in person consultation, please plan on and allow for about 2-3 hours.

For a floor plan analysis, please plan for about an hour Skype or FaceTime session.

Thank you for trusting in me to help you align the energy in your home and experience first hand what Feng Shui can do for you!
